Dear Colleague John

I am writing to you about the Victoria International Marina project currently underway in Victoria Harbour I toured the area around this project last summer and was very impressed with the benefit the development will have on the local economy and the positive impact it will have on the harbour itself In fact, a recent poll taken in the community showed that more than 60% of the local residents felt that the project would be beneficial to the city both economically and to the harbour as a whole

In these difficult economic times we should be assisting local businesses where ever we can This project continues to be a potential economic generator and will no doubt mean more jobs to the local area once operational I ask that you help make this proposal a reality as soon as possible

Sincerely,

Stockwell Day
